

Funnel Setup & Remarketing 11.0

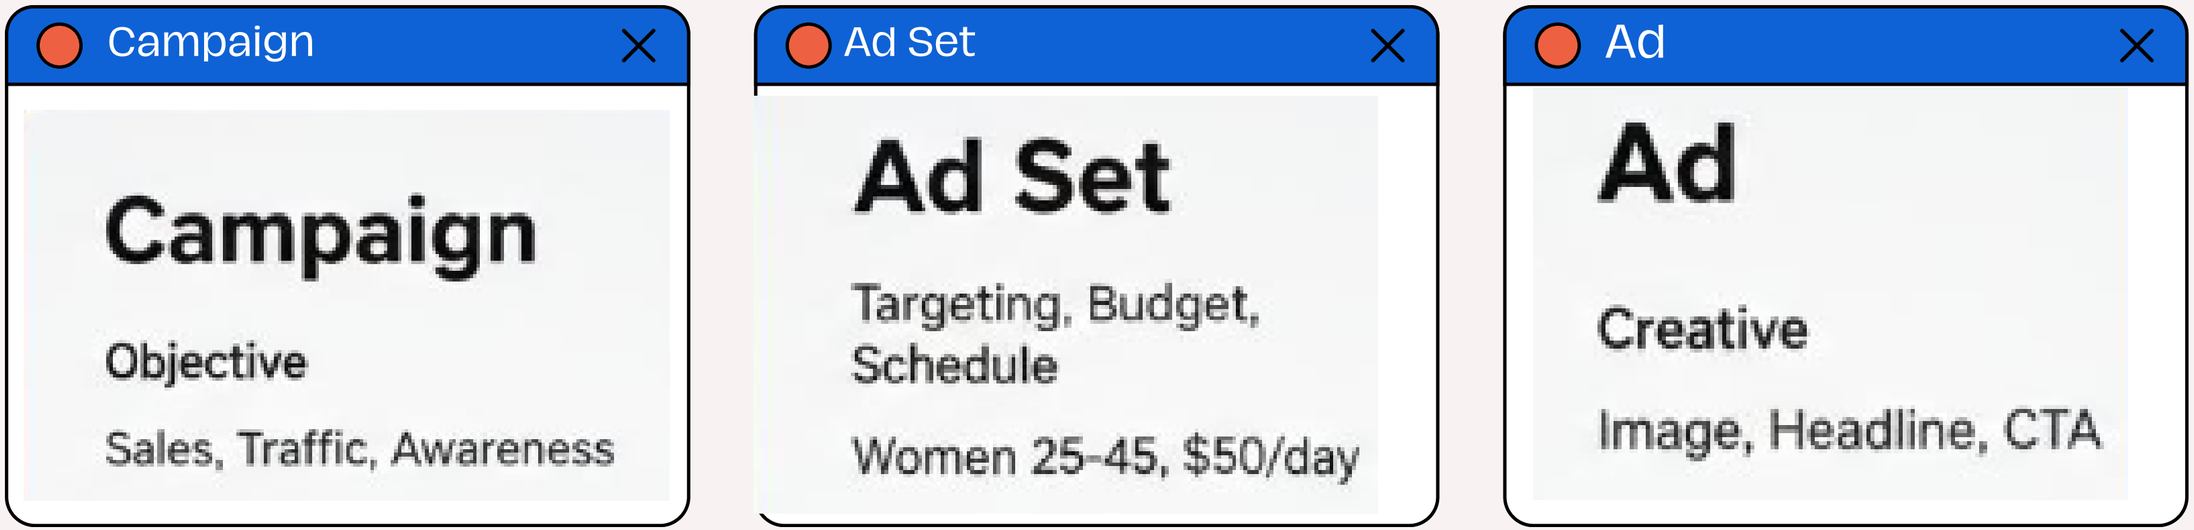

What is a Marketing Funnel?

- TOFU: Top of Funnel — build awareness.
- MOFU: Middle of Funnel — build interest and consideration.
- BOFU: Bottom of Funnel — encourage bookings, purchases or leads.
- The funnel helps businesses plan the right message for each stage.

Funnel Setup on Meta Ads

Funnel Setup

Meta Ads funnel setup:

1. Campaign: Select the campaign objective.
2. Ad Set: Set audience, budget, placements and schedule.
3. Ad: Add the image/video, text, headline and CTA.

Funnel stages:

- TOFU: Reach new people.
- MOFU: Engage interested people.
- BOFU: Encourage bookings or purchases.

Funnel Setup on Google Ads

Google Ads Funnel Setup

Use different campaign types at each stage to reach the right audience.

Stage	Example campaign approach	Goal
TOFU	YouTube or Display	Awareness
MOFU	Relevant Search or Display campaigns	Consideration
BOFU	High-intent Search or eligible remarketing campaigns	Conversion

Key Setup Steps

1. Select the campaign based on the goal.
2. Choose relevant audiences and keywords.
3. Set a budget and conversion goal.
4. Track results using Google Ads conversion tracking.

What is Remarketing?

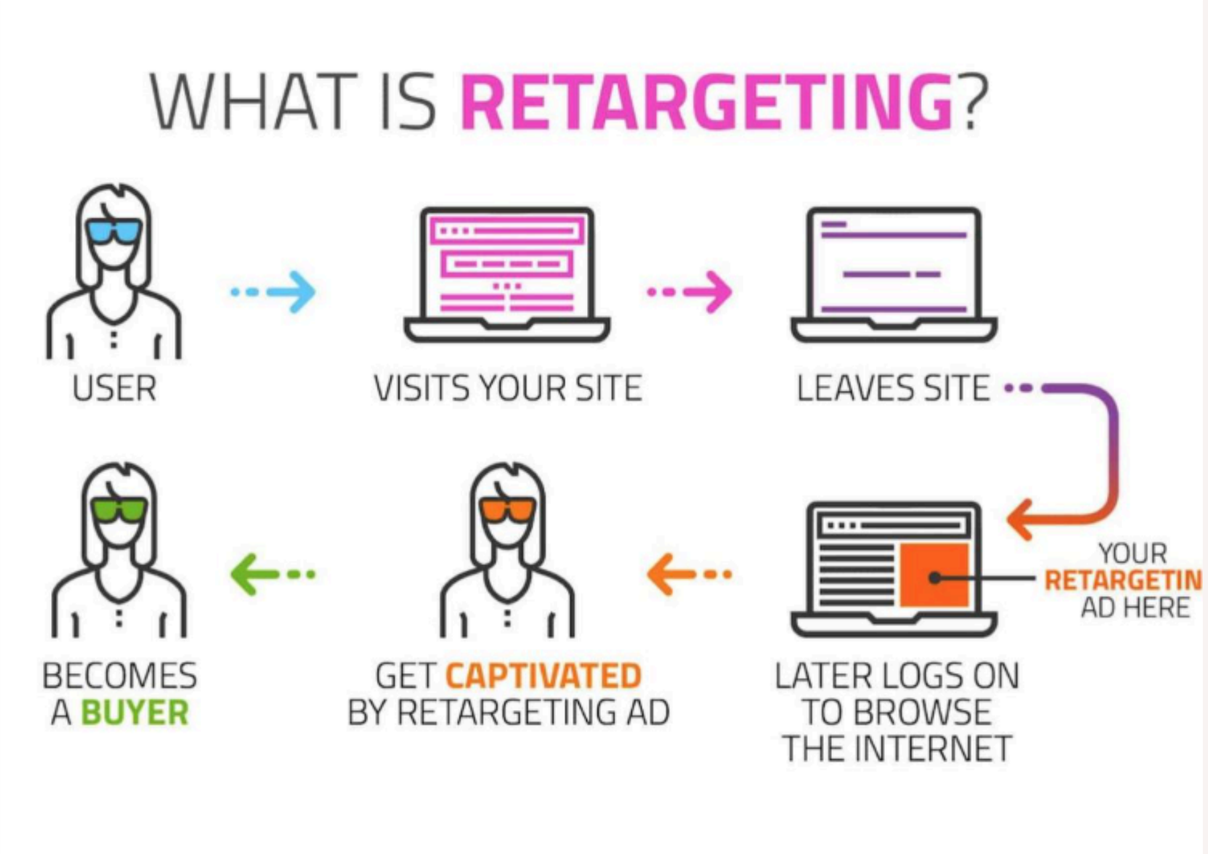

Remarketing means reaching people who have previously interacted with a business.

Examples:

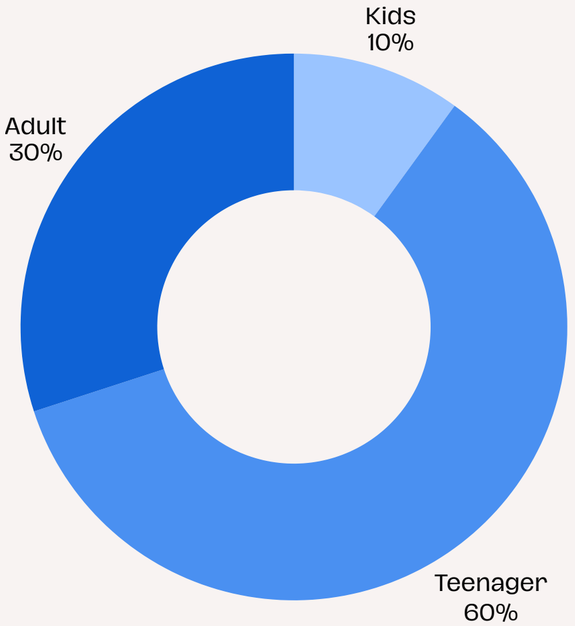

- Website visitors who did not book.
- People who viewed a product but did not purchase.
- People who engaged with eligible social media content.
- People who started a booking process but did not complete it.

Goal: Remind interested people about the business and encourage them to return.

How Remarketing Works: Tracking and Audiences

- Meta Pixel: Helps measure website activity and supported events for Meta advertising.
- Google tag: Helps measure website activity and send relevant data to Google products.
- Custom audience: A group of people created using eligible interactions or activity.
- Conversion tracking: Measures important actions such as purchases, leads or bookings.
